SECOND ACT--The curtain went up last night (after press time) on the long delayed second act of the City of Campbell vs. "Classy Chassy". The city, spearheaded by the police department, is seeking to revoke the business license of the "Classy Chassy", one of the two establishments within the city limits that offer topless entertainment.

In the first act (public hearing) held on July 9, police officers testified to the police problems that the lounge had caused. At last night's hearing before the City Council, Donald Tenenbaum, attorney for the owner of the establishment, A.T. Cohen, was expected to "cross-examine" the officers in a rebuttal performance to that of City Attorney Joe Bonacina on July 9. After the hearings have been completed, the City Council will act on whether the license should be revoked.

City Council on Thursday to adopt $4 million budget for year

At the special meeting tomorrow night (Thursday) the City Council is expected to set the same tax rate ($1.07) for operating costs (exclusive of bond repayment) that has been in effect for eight years.

A possible raise in the tax levy had been discussed during budget study sessions.

The Council is scheduled on Thursday to adopt the city's final budget including estimated revenues and reserves, that will total $4,605,526, the largest in the history of the city.

In addition, the City Council will probably tomorrow "put back" into the budget a number of items that had been eliminated by the councilmen in the preliminary budget sessions last spring.

This rosy fiscal picture has come about, City Manager Bob Stephens reported this week, because the city's financial reserves at the end of the fiscal year (June 30) was far greater than had been anticipated in even the most optimistic circles previously.

HIGH RESERVES

Stephens said that since he and Geoffrey Whitaker, city finance officer, had made their estimate last May, several unexpected windfalls from the state had come in bringing the city's end-of-the-year reserves to one of the highest points in this city's history.

$204,330

In his report to the City Council, Stephens said that the city's reserves in the general fund will be $204,330 as compared to the estimate of $71,250 that was made in May.

The city manager explained that the city's share of the cigarette tax and an accelerated sales tax payment exceeded their most optimistic estimates

Stephens admitted, however, that it was not good fiscal planning to underestimate that much and that it probably will not occur again. He said that in most cases there was no guide-line to determine what the size of the windfalls would be. In the future, he said, they will have a pattern to go by.

"We prefer, of course, to be conservative in our estimates", Stephens pointed out, "but not THAT much!!!

In an attempt to live within the city's anticipated income for the next year, the City Council during the budget sessions had slashed more than $100,000 from the budget requests of the department heads.

RESTORE CUTS?

At tomorrow's meeting, the Council could possibly restore many of the more essential items, provided it can be determined which ones are "essential".

Stephens has recommended that the Council in establishing "priorities" should determine what services are needed to maintain the same standard of service that now exist.

He said that he had asked department heads to make recommendations which he will include in his report to the Council.

A report prepared by the department heads some time ago suggested that the additions to the budget would total $90,256 for both personnel and equipment.

However, it is expected that the recommendation to the Council tomorrow will be on a priority basis and some of the items may even be eliminated.

Some of the $204,000 reserve is already committed, Stephens said.

The Council has indicated that it wants at least $50,000 to be in the reserve funds at the end of the fiscal year.

CORPORATION YARD

Another $40,000 is to be set aside for the corporation yard construction for the next year.

However, the city is studying the possibility of contracting for the entire corporation yard on a lease-purchase arrangement that will construct the entire plant at one time instead of extending it over a four-year period. However, the annual output would be practically the same, in either case.

The recommendations of the department heads include additional personnel in the police, fire and public works departments which would total about $30,000 in new salaries and equipment purchases that would reach $56,000.

Despite the committments on the general fund, the Council could still adopt the department heads recommendations and be within its self-imposed limits.

City Planners okay multi-million $$$ complex

Plans for 184-unit apartment complex on the west side of San Tomas Expressway north of Hamilton Ave., part of a multi-million dollar development planned in the area and a restaurant at 301 E. Hamilton received speedy approval of the Planning Commission on Monday night.

But action on the plans submitted by Humble Oil Co. for a service station at 2505 Winchester Blvd., adjacent to the Campbell Plaza Shopping Center was continued until the next meeting.

And the plans for a commercial building submitted by Ira Kirkorian were rejected because the applicant failed to put in an appearance.

But most of the commission's time on Monday night was spent discussing the application of Meribah Company, headed by Bill Briggs, well-known developer in the area, for planned development zoning on the northwest corner of Hamilton and Millich, for a $7 million development, just across the expressway from the 184-unit complex that had been approved previously by the commission.

Both developments will be the Meribah Company in which, as reported by Paul O. Frechette, project planner, Steve McQueen and other TV and Hollywood personalities are financially involved.

The P-D zoning that was requested was for approximately eight acres of which four would be devoted to apartments and four to an office complex of a "glamorous' garden-style design, Frechette told the commission.

As a result of eloquent appeals by Briggs and Frechette, that the commission "compromised" and cut down the request from 217 to 192 units and approved the P-D zoning.

Briggs said that the expressway had cut through the property and that the square-loop system had reduced the area which was why the higher density was requested.

The commissioners in a continuing action on plans for the gas station adjacent to the Campbell Plaza previously had turned down a use permit for the same station but were overruled by the City Council.

As in the use permit case, they wanted to know more about the traffic problems that the station would create on Winchester. Bill Wren, public works director, was not present. They asked Bill Helms, assistant, to notify Wren that they needed more background.

Plans for the commercial building for Ira Kirkorian has been submitted at a previous meeting and action had been continued to Monday because Kirkorian indicated that he would "dress them up" to meet the commission's approval.

The commission sailed right through the other items on the agenda. Approval was given Joseph Cali for a variance for a second story addition at 451 April Way for a minor subdivision of property owned by the First Christian Church on Pollard and More avenues and for a minor subdivision for Sisler Construction on Salmer Ave.

Local Jaycees sponsor kids bike races

All bicycle riders, both boys and girls, between the ages of six and 13, are invited to enter the first annual Junior Bicycle Race, to be held Saturday, Aug. 24, 11 a.m. on the Campbell High school field.

Sponsored by the Campbell JayCees, as part of the JayCees youth and sports portfolio, the event is their first annual Junior Bicycle Race at which all children are invited to participate and show their skill and speed at bike riding. There is no charge for admission or participation and trophies and other prizes from the Valley Athletic Supply will be given.

Part of the schedule of activities includes a "Wheelie Contest", in which the participants pick the bike up and ride on the rear tires only. "Pop a Wheelie" is the popular expression.

The races will be divided as to age groups and will be on a timed basis. For further information contact Roger Hughes at 378-4484 or Gary Drake at 248-3136.

LL managers battle KLIV

Managers and coaches of the Campbell and Moreland Little Leagues will meet the KLIV Prunes in a benefit softball game this Sunday, August 25 at the Campbell Little League field at Rosemary School on W. Hamilton near the expressway.

The game is called for 1 p.m. and all the proceeds will go to the Campbell and Moreland Little Leagues.

Donations of $1 will be asked.

The Straw Hat, at 1400 W. Campbell Ave., is cooperating with Little League officials for the big game by offering special discount tickets of $1 toward a giant pizza.

Jewelry, cash stolen from local home

Jewelry valued at over $2,000 and $45 in cash was stolen from the 837 Springfield Dr. residence of Mrs. Phyllis E. Dorf, Aug. 15 during the afternoon, according to the Campbell Police report.

Mrs. Dorf returned from shopping and discovered that while she was gone someone had entered her home by slitting a rear window screen. Dresser drawers and closets were ransacked and among the jewelry items listed as missing was a diamond ring, valued at $1250. Other pieces included a pearl and diamond wedding band, pins and clasps valued at over $900. Clothing was removed from the closet, both Mrs. Dorf's and her daughter's and dresser drawers were thoroughly ransacked. Police are investigating leads.

Car radios and stereo tapes were stolen from two cars belonging to Robert P. Nolan, 114 Llewellyn and from a car belonging to Allen Jackson, 173 Adler, Apt. 1. Nolan placed his loss at $80 and

Council to meet

Annexation and pre-zoning ordinances plus a zoning change are on the agenda for the regular meeting of the City Council next Monday, Aug. 26.

But indications are that the Council meeting will be comparatively routine compared to the special meeting held by the city fathers this week.

On Tuesday, the second act in the topless hearing took place and tomorrow (Thursday), the City Council in a special session is scheduled to set the tax rate and adopt the budget for the fiscal year.

City may get mini-park

Plans for a "mini-park" on the corner of Winchester and Alice Ave. will be presented to the city council Monday night by Jeanette Watson, chairman of the Citizens Beautification Committee.

The park plans, designed for low maintenance, have been approved by the Park and Recreation Commissioners.

Cambrian Park Nursery personnel designed and donated the plans It is estimated that it will cost $351. Mrs. Lawrence Tober, Mrs. Peter Yerkovich and Mrs. Marion Trowbridge, Alice Ave. residents, have agreed to raise the necessary funds and to coordinate maintenance.

Mrs. Michael Van Duyn of the JayCettes, has offered to make a bust of Benjamin Campbell to be placed in the park.

Also needed will be an estimated 1400 sq. ft. of gravel and slag walk, which the beautification committee hopes will be donated.

Plantings will include junipers, pines, agapanthus, with redwood benches lining the curving slag walks.

TOM SAWYER REVISITED?--Lou Ybarra, manager of Sherwin Williams Paints, 1825 Bascom Ave., knows what it takes to "get the job done" during the drive to clean-up, paint-up, fix-up Campbell. He has recruited small fry, Pat 7, Steve 8, Matt 3, Michael 3 and Rich 6, as volunteers.

Pat and Michael are daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kennedy, 2248 Montezuma Dr. The other three are nephews of the Kennedy's here on a visit.

Campbell family scatters in Europe

If the Frank A. Helstrom home at 1465 Ridgeley Dr. seems slightly in a state of upheaval during the next month, there is every reason for it to be so. For the Helmstroms are preparing to scatter over the face of Europe and have only the one month in which to pack.

Daughter Erica will be spending a year in Sweden. Her parents will be living for two years in Nice, France and their son is presently serving out his army career in Germany.

Helstrom, who has been serving as Manager of the Product Documentation department, IBM Development Lab at Cottle Road for the last 11 years, has just been appointed Manager of the IBM Product Development Procedures, Systems Development Division World Trade, Europe at Nice, France, and will leave Sept. 1€ for two years residence there.

Mr. and Mrs. Helstrom have just returned from a two weeks trip to Nice, France, and have already rented a furnished apartment "right on the Mediterranean", according to Mrs. Helstrom, and the water is a balmy 77 degrees, delightful for swimming.

In the meantime their 19 year old daughter, Erica, has been notified that she was one of the 20 Chico State College students who have been chosen to spend a year in a foreign country under the international studies program of the California State College system.

ERICA HELSTROM
--leaves for Sweden

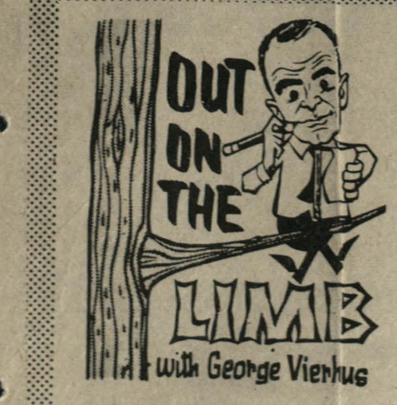
Erica will leave August 26 for Sweden where she will be enrolled at the University of Upsla, located a short distance from Stockholm. A major in sociology, she will spend her junior year in Sweden, and will study and live under the same conditions and take the same courses as do the Swedisl students. Students under the international studies program are enrolled simultaneously in the foreign universities and Chico State College.

Erica is especially thrilled at the prospect of spending a year in Sweden, as her father's family all originally came from Sweden. She has spent the summer months at San Francisco State studying Swedish and will have a three day orientation course in S.F. before leaving for Sweden. During the summer months of 1969 she will be traveling throughout the country before returning home.

According to Mrs. Helstrom exactly where Erica will return to, remains at this time an unanswered question, since the Helstrom parents will be in France.

Erica may possibly return to complete her senior year at Chico or choose to join her parents in France.

The Helstroms plan to return to their Campbell home following their two years in France.



THE WITHDRAWAL BY Fred Sahadi of his offer to build a 17-story tower at Campbell and Bascom avenues in which the first five floors would house the civic center, naturally, was greeted with mixed feelings.

We were among those who were disappointed. We can name others who were highly elated by this turn of events.

As we have said on numerous occasions, we felt that the concept of the civic center tower was a dramatic innovation and would improve the image of our burg.

It would be unique among civic centers in the county, state and nations for cities of this size.

And most of those who opposed the tower agreed that Campbell's "image" could stand improving.

But not with a tower.

Contrary to some of the rumors that, apparently, were deliberately launched during the past four months with malice aforethought, the existence of any "big conspiracy" comprised of proponents of the tower project was a mere figment of the fertile imagination of a few people opposed to the tower.

Actually that may have been one of the basic weaknesses of the presentation of the novel civic center project. We mean this lack of any organization, civic or otherwise, to promote the idea.

There was no coordination of efforts to any extent. Those who liked the concept were more or less on their own.

There were no meetings of "conspirators" working to put across the Sahadi proposal.

As it turned out that maybe was a mistake, for we sincerely believe that the tower was the way for our city to go.

We take second place to no one when it comes to working for the betterment of this community...And we have the written record by chapter and verse to prove that statement covering more than a decade in this city.

We know Fred Sahadi personally, in case you might think we were trying to be coy about the whole affair.

But for the record, during the four-month period when the civic center tower project was trying to overcome the legal roadblocks so that it could come officially to bat, your editor met with Sahadi twice to discuss various aspects of the situation.

At no time during the four-month period did Fred contact us for support.

Admittedly there was no need for Sahadi to "sell us" on the idea.

Maybe if we had been on the other side, he would have had contacted us periodically.

But we doubt it. Fred did not play it thataway.

He was hoping it would stand or fall on its own merits.

But somehow the "merits" got mixed up with emotions and legalities.

WE KNOW THIS MAY sound corney as all get out, but in retrospect, despite our disappointment that the plan was withdrawn, we are pleased that there was no "conspiracy" or active group pushing the tower.

Take as a f'instance: Dale Scott, a relatively new planning commissioner but active for some time in community affairs, sincerely felt that the civic center tower project would be beneficial to the community as a whole. He made his thoughts on the subject known publicly.

As you may remember, Scott, executive director of the Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association, worked hard and long for the passage of the city's bond issue last year. He saw no conflict with Sahadi's proposal and any previous thinking of a civic center location.

But here is our point.

Sahadi and Scott had never met. (At least they hadn't at the time of Sahadi's withdrawal).

We don't know whether

Editorial

Time will tell

Apparently Campbell is not to have a 17-story civic center tower. We make no bones about it. We are disappointed.

Fred Sahaid, who last April made the dramatic proposal that the civic center be located in a multi-story office building at Campbell and Bascom avenues has officially withdrawn his offer.

Over-simplified, the proposition of Sahadi meant that the city would virtually own a 17-story building, built by Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co.

City offices, however, would only use the first five floors. The other floors would be leased back to the developers and over a period of years rental income from the offices would eventually return the developers their investment.

From the very start almost everyone recognized that the Sahadi offer presented many and varied problems.

But most of the problems stemmed from the fact that the proposal was almost unprecedented in scope. There was no pattern to follow.

Quite frankly we felt that because of that very fact, the proposal was that much more valuable to this community.

Admittedly that was a biased attitude to take. Yet we have long been convinced that our long battle to improve the image of this community needed a dramatic impact, a bold approach. In our opinion this unique 17-story civic center tower was the shot-in-the arm that this city needed.

Quite naturally opposition immediately developed.

There were many who felt that our emphasis on "image" was silly. Some claimed that most people could care less about a community's image. And, of course, they may be right. Except after all these years, we have become quite weary of the condescending attitude of "outsiders" concerning Campbell.

Other people felt that the removal of the civic center tower from the so-called "downtown core" would sound the death knell for that deteriorated portion of the town. In most instances such opposition, quite naturally, stemmed from owners of property in the downtown area.

Others felt that a moral committment had been made when the bond issue was passed last year which specified that the civic center would be located in the so-called downtown area. They felt that should a change be made, the people should have a chance to vote on it.

In most cases those who opposed the tower concept were sincere individuals who felt they were doing what they thought was right for their community.

And by the same token those who favored the tower felt the same way.

On the assumption that the citizens of this community may have been quite evenly divided as to their tower feelings, it is moot question whether a vote of the people would have settled matters to a great extent.

Of course, now that Sahadi has withdrawn his proposal, that will have to remain unanswered.

Despite our sincere belief that the tower plan was the proper way to go, we find no fault with those who opposed the idea.

Admittedly something so new and different and as unique and bold as the tower concept will easily find opposition. When the future is involved, people are bound to have different ideas on the subject. Vision and imagination have different meanings to different people.

So we understand the opposition. We would have been surprised had no opposition developed.

But what we do resent about the whole issue is the negative approach that was used in many instances in the preliminary research, especially from the legal point of view.

Just because it could not be found in the law books, it does not necessarily follow that the idea was all wrong. But don't get us wrong. If it was illegal, that should have been uncovered and discovered and the plan forgotten.

But as in court, the "guilt" must first be proved.

We were also disappointed in the apparent lack of communication that existed between the developer and the city attorney during the four months the issue was before the city.

We think that was one area in which there also could have been an improvement.

All in all, however, it was an interesting experience to all of us.

And the results?

To use a trite expression, time will tell.

that speaks well for either one of the guys, socially, i.e., not getting together at some time or another.

But somehow it sets well with us.

In this day of "big deals", or even little or medium-sized ones, it is refreshing to note that the "smoke-filled room" approach was absent in this instance.

A CITY'S "IMAGE" MAY seem unimportant to some of you.

And you are probably right. Maybe we are prone to put too much stress on this image bit.

But we do have a short-fuse.

We resent like crazy those condescending cracks people on the outside have made about the community in which we live and work and in which we take justifiable pride.

Maybe it is because of our exposure as your editor that we hear those snide remarks more often than you do.

Or maybe you don't care, and ignore snobbery.

The city has made great strides in overcoming its handicap in the last few years.

But there is still a long way to go.

A case in point with respect to that was related by Bill Wren, public works director, at a recent City Council meeting.

Bill was discussing the problem of city limit signs.

He said that his department was having trouble with a developer off Pollard Road who was constructing new homes in Saratoga just across the line from Campbell.

It so happens, Bill said, that Campbell has jurisdiction over the street and had placed its city limit signs thereon.

The developer was furious.

The city limit signs, he claimed, indicated that his new tract was within the city limits, heaven forbid, of Campbell and not Saratoga.

Bill added that the developer pleaded to have them removed and indicated that they even might come down on their own some night.

That sector is way out of our way. But we plan to swing by there from time to time as a very biased observer.

We may even ask Wren for an extra city limit sign to carry with us.

And a post-hole digger.

JACK HEALEY, A PLANning commissioner since 1962, was recently appointed to a new term of office.

The Press ran Jack's picture along with that of Frank Klein, current chairman, who was also reappointed.

After running the pictures, we realized more current mugs were necessary. And we now have a new shot of Jack. We hope to shoot (with camera) Frank soon.

We know how old Jack's picture was. In the original photo there is a September 1962 calendar in the background.

There have been a number of changes during the past six years.

Take Jack's case, we mean aside, that is, of any physiognomy difference that age has brought about.

When Healey, a highly successful insurance agent, was appointed to the commission in 1962 he lived within the city limits.

But with a growing family, he needed a bigger home. They found one just outside the city limits.

True, it was within the so-called Campbell sphere but it still was in unincorporated county territory.

You may recall also that the City Council not too long ago discussed the policy of having a residential requirement for commissioners. But it was decided not to change it. If the council HAD adopted such a policy for the Planning Commission, Healey could not have been reappointed at that time.

But now it is all ok.

Let the record show that the Healey residence is now officially within the city limits.

At Jack's instigation, an annexation (Cherrywood) has been approved that brings his residence (and one next to it) within the confines of Campbell.

That's what we call having a moving spirit.

And we like it.

for revenue next year includes anticipated income from the sale of $1,600,000 in city bonds that the Council has authorized plus $500,000 in bonds that had been previously sold. Only $500,000 of the total bond issue will remain unsold in 1969.

The sale of the bonds was authorized ahead of schedule because of the problems that could develop over bond sales should the so-called "Watson amendment" be adopted Nov. 5.

The City Council, in addition to setting the tax rate for operational expenses ($1.07) tomorrow must also levy taxes for bond redemptions.

A total of 35-cents will be needed for bond redemption during the next fiscal year. A 15-cent tax for the lighting district that the city took over from the county two years ago must also be set.

The total tax that the Council is scheduled to set tomorrow will then be $1.57 per $100 assessed valuation.

Campbell police were also called upon to question three juveniles, ages 17, 16 and 15, who were suspected of using marijuana.

The suspects were observed entering an open field approximately 150 feet north of Campbell Ave. between San Tomas Road and Superior Dr. during the evening of Aug. 14. Sgt. F.L. Furtaw, who was off duty at the time, observed the juveniles entering the field and then disappearing from sight, as though they had sat down. After calling for support, the officers entered the field and apprehended the teen-agers, who were turned over to their parents after material resembling marijuana was found in their possession.

Seventeen cats are apt to create a nuisance, according to the County Health Department, who called upon Campbell police to investigate the presence of the felines belonging to Mrs. Ebena Patterson, 250 Mariana Way.

An investigation was made and Mrs. Patterson was asked to abate the number of cats residing on her premises.

TUMOR CENTER

Walter G. Gunn, M.D., has been appointed Medical Director of the new Tumor Center at O'Connor Hospital in San Jose, according to Roland D. Olen, administrator.

Prior to his appointment to O'Connor, Dr. Gunn was Chairman of the Department of Radiation Therapy at the UC Irvine School of Medicine.

The latest and most modern equipment available has been purchased for use in the Tumor Center.

College board reaffirms plans for campuses

The Board of Trustees of West Valley College, at its recent meeting, reaffirmed its master plan for the construction of two campuses by 1975 and the acquisition of land for a third campus in the southern portion of the district.

With two major buildings already well under way on the Saratoga campus, (the Engineering-Technology Building will be occupied this Fall, and the Science-Mathematics Build ing will be completed in time for the 1969-70 school year), the Board updated its ten-year "Master Plan of Construction", originally adopted a year ago as a requirement of all junior college districts in the State if they are to participate in State construction grants available under the Junior College Construction Act of 1967.

This master plan is predicated on a pay-as-you-go basis, which, Jack T. Armstrong, chairman of the Board, pointed out, is the only method currently available to the governing board of the district. "Once a successful bond issue is passed the completion of the master plan for construction can be hastened greatly," Armstrong made clear upon the completion of the Board's action.

Set forth below, with priorities indicated by number, and "working drawings" as scheduled by date, the updated master plan is as follows.

Language Arts-Social Science Building, Saratoga, 1969-70.
Warehouse - Maintenance Building, Saratoga, 1969-70,
Library, Saratoga, 1969-70.
Business Education Building, Saratoga, 1969-70.
Acquisition of Mission (Santa Clara) site, 1970-71.
Physical Education Building, Saratoga, 1970-71.
Humanities - Fine Arts Building, Saratoga, 1970-71.
Acquisition of Southern District site, 1971-71.
Language Arts-Social Science Building, Mission, 1971-72.
Engineering-Technology Build Mission, 1972-73.
Science-Mathematics Building, Mission, 1973-74.
Library, Mission, 1973-74.
Business Education Building, 1974-75.

College officials estimate there is a four-year lapse between the "working drawings" stage and actual completion of buildings. Under this schedule, therefore, buildings proposed above would be completed by the 1979-80 school year, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president.

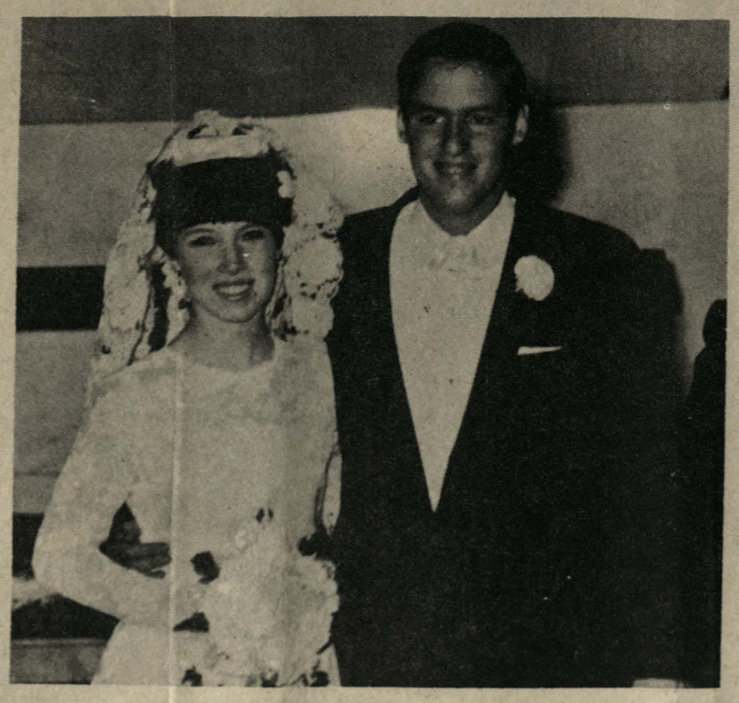
Plummer sisters become brides in summer weddings



MR. AND MRS. MILTON LYNN

Karen Lynn Plummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel E. Plummer, Jr. of 12618 Paseo Olivos, Saratoga, became the bride of Milton Joseph Lynn on June 2 at a double ring ceremony held at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Saratoga. Performing the ceremony was the Rev. Roy Strasburger.

The bride wore a floor length white Chantilly lace, designed and made for the bride by her friend, Mrs. Edith Lewis, and accented with a mantilla lace veil. Special features of the dress included hand embroidery and beads. A bouquet of white carnations completed her ensemble.

Serving as maid of honor was her sister, Sandra Kay, who wore a floor length green chiffon dress and carried yellow carnations. Mrs. Plummer chose a pastel green linen dress accented with a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding.

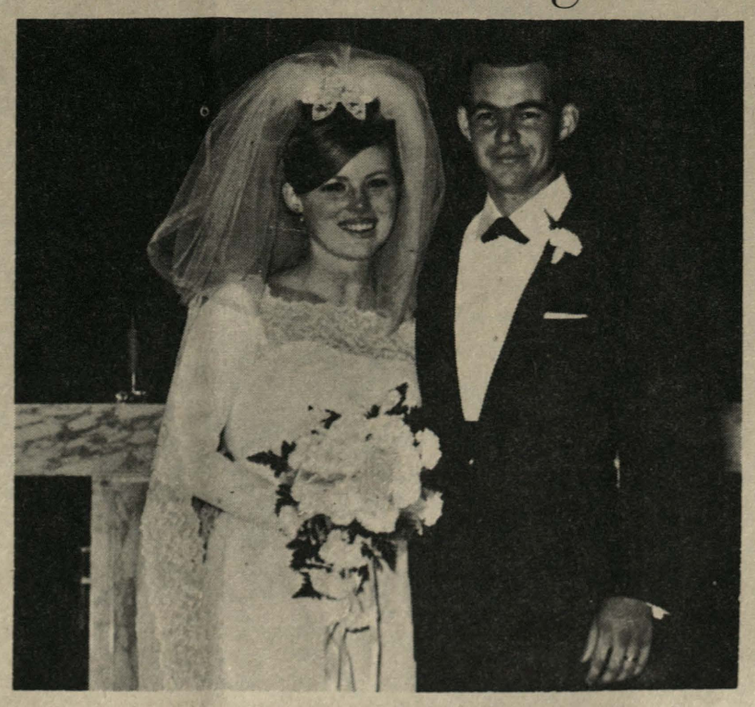
Milton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Anderson of Phoenix, Arizona. He attended Blackford High school for nearly four years but received his high school diploma from Andrew High school. He also attended San Jose City College and is presently employed by U.S. Products.

The bride, who was a 1965 Westmont High School graduate, also graduated from Bryant and Stratton College of Commerce and is presently employed by State Farm Insurance Company in Willow Glen.

Serving as best man was Michael Fitzpatrick, who in July married the brides sister, Sandra. Mrs. Anderson, the groom's mother, wore a pastel blue cotton dress with a pink carnation corsage for the occasion.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the patio of the church where the three tiered wedding cake was cut. White carnations and yellow daisies carried out the color scheme.

For their wedding trip to Yosemite and Bass Lake the new Mrs. Lynn wore a yellow and white suit. The newly-weds are now making their home in San Jose.



MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL FITZPATRICK

The occasion of the July 21 marriage of Miss Sandra K. Plummer and Michael Thomas Fitzpatrick at St. Lucy's Catholic Church saw two clergymen from two different faiths participating in the solemnizing of the wedding vows, for the first time in St. Lucy's history.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Daniel J. Sheehan, of St. Lucy's, while the Rev. Roy W. Strasburger of St. Andrews Episcopal Church blessed the young couple and bestowed upon them the benediction following the ceremony.

For the occasion the lovely blond daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Plummer Jr., 12618 Paseo Olivos, Saratoga, chose a floor length white embroidered lace dress with a long train bordered with the same lace and sprinkled with sequins. A shoulder length veil was held in place with a pearl star head piece and a bouquet of white carnations completed her ensemble.

Her sister, Mrs. Karen Lynn, served as her matron of honor in yellow chiffon with a white daisy bouquet while her mother chose a printed pastel chiffon with a white carnation corsage.

A graduate of Westmont High school, the bride has just completed a course at the Campbell Beauty College as a cosmetologist.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Fitzpatrick, 18530 Montpere Way, Saratoga. A graduate of Campbell High school and West Valley College he is presently employed as a mechanic at U.S.Products. Tim M. Fitzpatrick, his brother, served as best man.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick wore a pastel blue chiffon ensemble with white carnation accents for the event.

Following the ceremony approximately 40 guests attended a reception held at the grooms parents' home in Saratoga which was decorated with yellow and white daisies and carnations. Before leaving for Southern California and their honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick cut their three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Fitzpatrick chose an orange and white coat dress ensemble for her going away outfit.

The young couple are making their first home in Campbell.

Letters to the Editor

TRANSPORTATION

Gentlemen:

This letter is in behalf of many of us Campbell residents who no longer own or drive our own cars.

Isn't there some way in which Campbell can secure better transportation? The Peerless, out of Los Gatos runs a number of busses thru Campbell, except on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays. On those days we are at the mercy of kind friends or taxis.

We realize it is a matter of franchise which prevents San Jose local lines from running into Campbell, but isn't there some way in which this might be adjusted, to the benefit of the many, many apartment dwellers, mostly older persons who enjoy living in Campbell but who eventually are going to have to move to a center where there is more adequate transportation?

Any publicity the Press may be able to give to this question will be appreciated by -

Many Senior Citizens.

CONDEMNS PAPER

Dear Sir:

Via Montalvo was a little brighter–for a couple of days. But the gloom surely settled after your paper was delivered on August 14.

Your article about our friend and neighbor, Catherine Smith, makes her sound like a slob who does nothing for her family. This is far from the truth! Cathy has painted walls, refinished furniture, recovered chairs, and she cleans, cleans, cleans. You can only imagine the wear and tear on a house with six small boys living in it. (I have four of my own).

I would also add that we did not restock shelves. We did waste two gallons of Cathy's paint on the family room. The garage was not piled high. I wish my storage area were as neat. Very little of the clothing and toys were "unusable".

Yes, Cathy's life was a little lighter and brighter for a few days–exactly what we were working for–but your article submitted by Mrs. Jacques certainly put the light out swiftly.

I can't imagine a small newspaper printing a local article like this without any consideration for anyone's feelings. Don't ever use my name in your paper without my permission.

Mrs. Lee L. Simpson
3940 Via Montalvo

UPSET BY STORY

To The Editor:

It seems to me and my neighbors that when someone does something nice for a friend, it does not need to be broadcast, unless desired by all concerned. Apparently not all of those neighbors did it for no individual glory. It is highly insulting for someone to come into my home to help, and then turn around and make her "good deeds" public, and have things printed that are nobody's business. I feel that all responsible for this, invaded my privacy and presented a picture of me that my neighbors don't even agree with. They are apologizing to me for the article being printed

And it might interest you to know that the "gratis" work that Mr. Jaques did on my car, set me back $40. Also the bit about a grocery expedition restocking my kitchen shelves made no mention of me being the one who bought $70 worth of groceries the previous week, with my money.

You should really get the story straight before you print it. Also, consider yourselves fortunate that my name wasn't mentioned.

It's a shame that such a personal giving of time and energy couldn't remain just that. These people were not asked if they wanted their names printed. That is an invasion of their privacy also. What these neighbors did that Sunday was not unusual for them. This is the way they are and have been to us for the past four years. And nobody felt compelled to tug on the reading public's heartstrings for anything else.

This article was a very cheap way to get attention, something that the other families did not feel was necessary to achieve that wonderful satisfaction of giving.

My neighbors don't consider it necessary for me to thank each and everyone involved for everything, for them to know how grateful I am for all that they did. They knew this before they even started. I think they certainly would have appointed a publicity chairman if they so wished. But then, these may be unusual people, who enjoy helping someone in need without being awarded the Medal of Honor.

Kathy Smith
3920 Via Montalvo

P.S. In case you don't know who I am, I am the unmentioned slob that was the subject of your "heartwarming" article on Via Montalvo.

In 1910 in California, there were 3,000 miles of State highway, mostly running north and south.

Saratoga campus classes begin in fall term

Plans are nearing completion for conducting classes this fall in the new facilities of West Valley College at Saratoga, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president.

Insofar as possible, scheduling is being attempted so that students will not have to commute between the Saratoga and temporary Campbell campus.

Dr. Hall said that students majoring in drafting, drafting design, electronics, home economics (clothing selection, dietetic assistant, interior decoration and nursery school assistant), food services and restaurant management, licensed vocational nursing and medical assisting, will have the majority, if not all, of their classes on the Saratoga campus.

In the event there is the need for some commuting, classes at Saratoga are scheduled on the hour (8 a.m., 9 a.m., etc.) while those at Campbell will be scheduled on the half-hour (8:30, 9:30, etc.) to allow for commute time.

All classes on the Saratoga campus are listed with an "S" prefix before the room number.

Parking will be available on the Saratoga campus, and a bookstore will be opened there. Vending machines will be available for soft drinks and snacks.

Three counselors have been assigned to a special center on the Saratoga campus and will be available to students for adding or dropping classes, future program planning, testing and other normal counseling functions.

There will be a library available, but the facilities of the Campbell library may also be utilized by Saratoga-based students.

Both men were also named to the dean's list at the end of the first and second quarters of the 1967-68

WILL ENTERTAIN--Mrs. Wallace W. Hall, will entertain Mrs. Robert E. Barwick, wife of the Governor of District 513, Rotary International, at a luncheon next Monday at her Saratoga home. Dr. Hall is the Campbell Rotary Club president. Present for the occasion will be other "Rotary Anns".

Directory lists recreation spots

Plans for publication of a directory to identify local forms of recreation were revealed at a recent meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

In response to an inquiry by Courtland Watson, commissioner, Don Hebard, chairman, revealed that he had appointed Mrs. Milton Howe, 45 Budd Ave., to work on the directory several months ago, and that she and some committee members hoped to complete the task shortly.

Mrs. Howe, who was a member of the audience, explained that she had been bogged down on the directory because of the lack of response and that she was hoping to "track down" more information. Watson replied that he felt that an incomplete directory might be better than none.

SHORT TUNIC

The appearance of the short tunic in the 14th century was the first manifestation of fashion.

Voters required to register before Sept. 12

Campbell residents are reminded that Sept. 12 is the deadline for registering to vote in the California general election Nov. 5.

The Campbell Fire Dept. main station, 51 N. Central Ave. will be open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. to register voters.

Station No. 2, 775 Sunnyoaks Ave. will be open in the evenings although it may be closed to voter registration from time to time during the day depending on the training schedule of the firemen stationed there.

Factors which require reregistration for the November election include:

(1) Have you moved recently? (2) New resident in the County? (3) Have you lived in California one year by November 5? (4) Will you reach the age of 21 by November 5? (5) Changed your name? (6) Failed to vote in the 1966 General Election?

If any of these questions apply to you, you must register before Sept. 12 in order to take your place at the polls Nov. 5.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Though it has been discussed at some length in the press, very few realize the strong likelihood that the candidacy of George Wallace could throw the final selection of the next President into the House of Representatives next January.

Mr. Wallace's goal is to qualify for the Presidential election on November 5 in at least 45 states. He is certain to be successful in at least 40 states.

Even the most conservative political estimates are that Wallace will receive more than 14% of the vote next November. Using the 1960 election as an example, Vice President Nixon took the popular vote in 21 states by 14% or less. Senator Kennedy won 18 states by less than 14% and 11 states by only 3%. Thus, the Wallace vote could materially affect the outcome.

On a regional basis and considering only the deep South, predictions are that Wallace will get 47% of the vote. It is predicted he will get 23% in border states. Thus, Mr. Wallace could come to the Electoral College with a majority in at least 5 Southern states–Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, and South Carolina–for a total of 47 electoral votes. He might possibly win Flordia, Tennessee, Arkansas and North Carolina for an additional 44 votes. So Mr. Wallace is certain to have substantial votes in the Electoral College.

Using the 1960 election results as an index, Wallace would need only 34 electoral votes to deadlock the Electoral College. As noted above, it already appears that he will have 47, with a possibility of 91.

The Electoral College does not cast its votes until December 16, 1968. Should no Presidential candidate command a majority, then the President would be elected by the new House of Representatives on January 6, 1969. Each state would have one vote regardless of its size, with 26 votes needed for a victory.

In the present Congress 29 states have a Democratic Party majority, 18 have a Republican majority, and there are 3 ties (in even delegations the state has no vote). This makes it appear that a Democrat would win handily. But, if the Republican Party holds its current number of House seats and gains only one seat in each of the states which now have a Democratic Party majority of 2, and if the Democratic Party does likewise against the Republicans the result would be 18 Democratic Party delegations, 12 Republican Party delegations, and 20 delegations with no vote because of ties. Therefore, neither party would have the necessary majority of 26 to elect its nominee.

Obviously, such a situation is not in the national interest and serves to emphasize what I have contended for some time–that the Electoral College and our system of selecting our President are obsolete and out of date. This is why I have introduced legislation to abolish the Electoral College and provide for a truly popular election of our President and Vice President. In the meantime, recognizing that the law cannot be changed before next January, I am supporting a bipartisan "gentlemen's agreement" that each state delegation will vote for the man who received the highest popular vote in their state.

County fair winds up 10-day stand August 25

With one Kid's Day already under its belt, and another coming up Friday, the 24th annual Santa Clara County Fair swings into its final weekend with lots of action, good weather, record crowds and more exhibits than ever before.

The second half of the 10-day stand opened with such a diversity of events as Morgan Hill Day, open division judging on 4-H horses, poultry and pigeons, and livestock, sheep swine, dairy cattle, goats, chickens and breads.

Concerts at various areas by a wide diversity of musical groups, the John Strong Circus, "Science in Action" programs in Exposition Hall, demonstrations by the Canine Corps, harness racing, fashion shows, the Ron Gaylord and Burt Holiday Show, folk happenings, horseshoe pitching on "Ringer Row" and fireworks capping each night's activities mark the daily schedule.

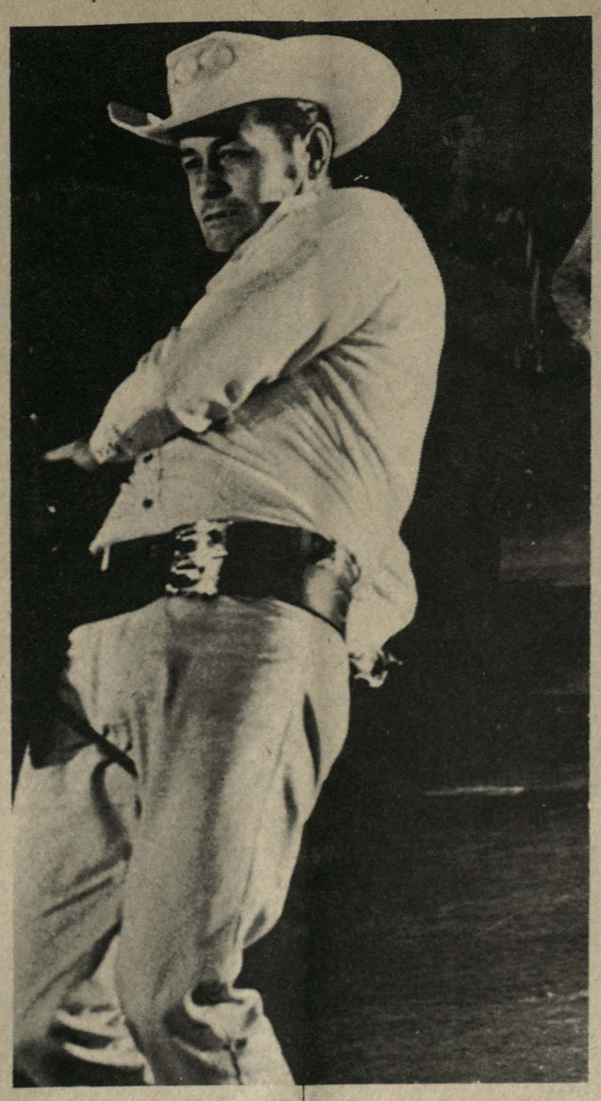
Friday's performances include tractor contests, cut flower and flower arrangement judging, tours of the junior livestock areas conducted by 4-H club members.

Big event scheduled Saturday is the Diaper Derby, with entrants up to 12 months old, followed by demonstration of quick-draw pistol shooting, a performance by the South Pacific Glee Club, two circus performances, more horseshoe pitching, dog obedience trials and band concerts.

The final day's activities include a quarter-horse show all day in the grandstand, a salute to the Armed Forces, a styling contest in the Women's Department, the famed Destruction Derby, the Palace Revue at the Pavilion Palace, the final Grandstand Revue and farewell to the Queen of the Fair, Terri Buck, and the big, final fireworks display.

In addition, all of the regular exhibits of the Fair, both agricultural and commercial, as well as the new major industrial exhibits, will be available for viewing throughout the week.

NIGHTLIFE AT THE FAIR--Even at 9 o'clock in the evening, the Santa Clara County Fair main gates were going full steam, admitting Fairgoers to the State's third largest Fair. The gates will come to a final close on Sunday, when an estimated 400,000 people will have visited the Fair.



FASTEST GUN IN THE WEST--Al "Pappy" Brian is the fastest in the world as the west. He holds the record of being able to draw, shoot, and hit a target, all in 6/100ths of a second. He demonstrates his fast-draw ability at the Santa Clara County Fair, through Sunday, Aug. 25.

CROWNING GLORY--The Queen of the 24th annual Santa Clara County Fair, Terri Buck, 18, sits on her throne flanked by her two princesses, Connie McCory, 17, and Rosemary Hannah, 17½, following coronation ceremonies at the opening of the Fair last Friday evening. At left is State Senator Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose) and at right is A.L. Christopher, president, Santa Clara County Fair Association.

HERE COMES THE PUP--Pixie, a dachshund, gets all excited when she hears about the Santa Clara County Fair which will end on Sunday, Aug. 25. She will be one of the stars for the Santa Clara Dog Training Club, which is holding demonstrations of dog obedience throughout the 10 days of the Fair.

Booth at fair offers blood pressure tests

A free check of your likelihood to have heart trouble-America's number one killer-is offered at the Santa Clara County Fair by the Santa Clara County Heart Association, according to Dr. Malcolm R. Parker, Association President.

At a booth in the General Exhibits Patio, blood pressure tests will be made for all who desire them. High blood pressure, sometimes called hypertension, may cause major damage to the heart, kidneys and other organs. It increases the risk of having a heart attack, a stroke or kidney failure.

Weight will also be taken for those who wish it. Overweight is known to reduce life expectancy. There is the risk of heart attack, and there is the possibility of building up cholesterol in the blood vessels, a substance which restricts the flow of blood to the heart.

Attendants at the booth will give advice and literature on diet and other life saving activities of the Heart Association.

More than half of all deaths including those caused by disease, accidents and "old age", are attributed to cardiovascular causes, the so-called heart disease that includes heart attack, stroke and blood vessel disease.

Heart disease causes 54 per cent of all U.S. deaths, or about a million deaths a year, 4,500 of them in Santa Clara County. Heart disease causes four times as many deaths as the second leading killer, cancer. Traffic accidents are the number three killer.
